Kym’s Korner

This week we celebrated Staff Appreciation Day. We are very lucky at Wellcamp to have such a dedicated staff who give so freely of their time. All of the little extra things our staff do, help to make this a very special place for children to learn and grow. I sincerely thank all of our teachers, aides, admin and cleaning staff for the wonderful work they do each week. I also congratulate those staff who this year celebrate 10, 20 and 25 year milestones with the department. That is quite an achievement!

I was also exceptionally proud of our year 7 students on Wednesday when they organised a fundraiser for the RSPCA and Moon Bear Rescue. They were very resourceful and did a spectacular job marketing their event, which was hugely successful raising more than $250 to go towards their selected charities. There are only five weeks left in our school year. Students are very busy completing assessments so it is important that they attend school every day. The concert is in just a few short weeks. If you don’t already have it on your calendar please set aside Sunday evening on the 7th of December from 4.30. This year we are having our concert at the Westbrook Hall. If your children are not able to attend please let the class teacher know immediately as the teachers will need to make adjustments to performances.

Thank you
Kym

BEHAVIOUR BLOG

Children develop best in a stable environment where they are valued and listened to. They prefer an orderly environment rather than a chaotic one. And they need someone in that environment who will help them learn to be safe and sociable. This is where our responsible behaviour plan comes in.

Children need limits and boundaries. They need rules to be clear and specific. They also need to know what will happen if they don’t follow these rules. This is where the relationship between rules and consequences becomes so important.

Consequences - the positive or negative results of the behaviour choices a person makes – teach children to be responsible, to develop a sense of other and to make smarter choices when faced with decisions.

At Wellcamp, we explicitly teach our school rules and we also make clear the possible consequences (both positive and negative) for actions that may occur throughout the school day. We have recently developed two charts that visually represent school consequences in the classroom and in the playground. We are sending these home with you today. You will also find these around the school.

P&C End of Year Raffle
